The position CSS property sets how an element is positioned in a document. The top, right, bottom, and left properties determine the final location of positioned elements.

✓ Widely available across major browsers
(Baseline since 2015)

Syntax: static | relative | absolute | sticky | fixed
